

Feature Story

Mr. Saul

Mr. Saul, a student-favorite at Clay-Battelle, is the Agriculture and FFA teacher. As a young child, Saul had grown up on a large farm and still enjoys working with animals, which is why he decided to teach agriculture. He loves teaching kids how to grow plants in the greenhouse. Saul also has the credentials to prove his green thumb. He holds a degree in Agriculture Masters and Agriculture Masters of Administration. Saul claims that if he wouldn't have taught Agriculture, then he would have taught Biology. Next year, Saul plans to continue to be the Assistant Coach for the football team and continue teaching at CB. We know Clay-Battelle would not be the same without him!

Current Events

Two weeks ago, March 8th, was International Women's Day. It is a global holiday to celebrate women's rights and the overall achievements of women. The main idea of the holiday is to end violence against women. On February 20th, 1991 the movement began in New Zealand and spread across the world. It also celebrates the cultural achievements of women. Some men give women small gifts and/ or flowers to celebrate and appreciate them. It's one of the greatest challenges of the 21st century. The triggering force of the movement occurred when women started protesting for the right to vote. To declare it an official holiday, over 1 million people voted. This year's goal for the holiday was to create a more gender-equal world.

Advice

Dear Abby,

I hate the way that I look. I really want to lose weight. My friends can all fit in the same size and trade clothes, but I'm always left out. I just wish I looked like the other girls. I'm really worried with summer coming soon.

Sincerely, Left-out Leslie

Dear Left-out Leslie,

Body shape is not a one-size-fits-all concept. There are many different shapes and sizes and all of them are unique and beautiful. The important thing is to be the healthiest version of you. Don't compare yourself to others. Love yourself!

Sincerely Abby
